

VISION

To provide the highest possible standard of checking and training to further advance Flight Safety in New Zealand.

PHILOSOPHY

I believe that the sharing and imparting of knowledge is essential in the delivery of flight assessing and training services. This sharing and imparting will enhance the safety of the aviation industry.

SAFETY POLICY

Flight Test NZ supports all requirements of law regarding safety and intends to provide employees, contractors and clients with a safe and healthy workplace environment facilitated by a positive safety culture and our safety management system.

Staff and contracted personnel are expected to comply with the procedures, engage proactively with the safety management system and processes of the company. Flight Test NZ operates a just culture policy where errors, decisions and actions are not punishable, however wilful unlawful acts, deliberate destruction, or gross negligence is not tolerated.

It is my intention to operate with nil accidents, or harm to our staff and clients. The culture, procedures and standards of the company are designed to achieve this goal.

Each employee or contractor has the responsibility and obligation to perform his or her job in a safe and efficient manner in accordance with the Health and Safety Act, Civil Aviation Rules, and the privileges they hold, while engaging proactively with the company's safety management system and work processes.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "SK", is written over a light green rectangular background.

Steve Kingsbury
Chief Executive Officer
Flight Test NZ Ltd